

Scenario

Why had they given you, Simeon Kurtz the most senior operative from Unit 6 the task of a simple maildrop in Berlin? This was surely a task for a junior employee who needed the experience. However as you emerged from the basement in a seedy London backstreet, your head pounding with pain you instinctively knew that the bad guys had made off with the secret documents, and what's more they had taken your Ferrari F40 as well. You contact control...bad move as he puts the phone down. You have this feeling that your own guys are going to be after you. You have only one choice, retrieve the documents and deliver them as planned, which should clear you with the department. Fortunately you still have the tracking device homed in to the briefcase, but the signal is growing faint. As you walk round the corner, your spirits rise as you see a motorbike standing outside a cafe.....

Scénario

Pourquoi vous ont-ils donné, à vous, Simeon Kurtz, l'agent secret le plus haut placé de l'Unité 6, l'ordre de faire une simple livraison à Berlin. C'est une tâche qui serait certainement plus adaptée à un nouveau qui a besoin d'expérience. Pourtant, en émergeant de ce sous-sol lugubre d'une petite rue londonienne, encore sous le choc, vous savez instinctivement que les méchants s'étaient enfuis avec les documents secrets, et qui plus est, avec votre Ferrari F40. Vous contactez "Contrôle" ... ce n'était pas la chose à faire. Lorsqu'il vous raccroche au nez, vous rendez compte que l'Unité 6 va vous rendre la vie difficile. Il ne vous reste qu'une chose à faire : récupérer et livrer les documents secrets. Vous devriez ainsi vous racheter aux yeux de votre service. Heureusement, vous avez toujours à votre disposition le mécanisme de pistage relié à l'attaché-case, mais le signal est de moins en moins distinct. En arrivant au coin de la rue, la vue d'une moto devant un café vous remonte le moral...
